

Dr. med. vet. Petra Grinninger, Dip ECVO

The career as veterinarian started in 2004 when she completed the study of veterinary medicine in Vienna (A). From 2004 until 2006 she worked as a junior docent at the ophthalmology department of the Vetmeduni Vienna. During this time she finished a dissertation on 'retinoscopy, keratometry and ultrasound examination of the equine eye'. In 2007 she followed an internship for small animals at the faculty of Vienna. From 2008 to 2011 she was resident of veterinary ophthalmology at the University of Utrecht (NL). Since 2012 she is diplomat of the European College of Veterinary Ophthalmologists and member of the Arbeitskreis der Veterinaräophthalmologen Österreich. She works as veterinarian ophthalmologist for small and large animals in private practice in Styria (A). The use of bandage contact lenses in corneal disease of dogs, cats and horses is her main interest.

Study and internship at Vetmeduni Vienna (A), Ophthalmology Residency at University of Utrecht (NL). Since 2012 diplomat of the European College of Veterinary Ophthalmologists and member of the Arbeitskreis der Veterinaräophthalmologen Österreich and working as veterinarian ophthalmologist for small and large animals in private practice in Styria (A).